Startups & Open innovation

Cristina Sánchez Somoza is a senior associate in the Corporate and Commercial Law Department, Financial Regulation Area at Garrigues, where she has been working since 2017. She specialises in the areas of financial regulation, regulated entities in the banking and securities markets sectors, Fintech, crypto-assets and consumer credit. She advises on the authorisation and incorporation of regulated entities in the banking sector (credit institutions, electronic money and payment institutions and financial credit institutions) and the securities market sector (investment services companies). She also provides advice related with the legal analysis of innovative business to check compliance with Spanish law, prevention of money laundering, drafting of contracts (clients and third parties), etc. She holds a degree in Law and a Master's Degree in Financial and Investment Advice and Access to the Legal Profession. She also gives training courses to employees and directors of financial institutions. In addition to Spanish, she is fluent in English.

Experience

Senior Associate since January 2023, she joined the firm in 2017.

Previously, she worked as a lawyer in international law firms.

She has extensive experience in the authorisation of regulated entities (with a focus on payment and electronic money institutions and investment services companies), advising on the definition of structures for the provision of regulated services, consumer credit, banking contracts, Fintech and crypto-assets, being in constant contact with the Bank of Spain, the National Securities Market Commission (Comisión Nacional del Mercado de Valores) and SEPBLAC (AML Intelligence Unit) and being aware of the latest supervisory criteria.

Ongoing advice on contractual matters, including banking, investment services, consumer credit, outsourcing and collaboration agreements.

Advising on regulatory matters in the main M&A and restructuring operations carried out by entities of that nature, as well as by private equity entities, including due diligence processes and regularisation of pre- and post-closing contingencies.

Advice on the implementation of disruptive businesses in the financial sector, including the use of algorithmic systems, blockchain and artificial intelligence, or the tokenisation of non-fungible assets (NFTs), etc.

She also has extensive experience in strategic advice in relation to the definition and development of financial businesses based on the latest technological developments.

Training for employees and directors or managers of regulated entities with regard to the minimum knowledge required by regulatory bodies to assess adequate training and experience, including in the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing.

She is fluent in Spanish and English.

Finally, she is involved as a volunteer in providing pro bono advice to under-resourced companies and foundations.
